ARTICLE XX AND XXI CASES

The IBEW is not involved in any disputes arising under Article XX of the AFL-CIO Constitution, during 2009. However, two matters involving "organizing responsibilities," under XXI developed and are capsulated, and recorded, as follows:

Article XXI ORP 09-1 - Cingular Wireless (AT&T Mobility)

Dispute arose from a campaign the CWA originally registered under the AFL-CIO's Strategic Campaign Registration Program in 2004, targeting what was then, Cingular Wireless and is now AT&T Mobility.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council's Article XXI Oversight Panel rejected the limitations the IBEW sought to impose on CWA's SCRCP, and extended the registration for another two years. Although the Panel made clear, in its decision that CWA cannot interfere with Local 1547's existing bargaining relationship with AT&T Mobility, the result of these two decisions is to bar the local from strengthening its representation by securing a state-wide unit.

Article XXI ORP 09-2 - Tennessee Valley Authority

IBEW Local Unions currently represent approximately 3000 annual TVA employees (as well as another 3000 contractor employees on TVA's site.) The locals launched a campaign in 2008, to organize an additional 3000 TVA transmission and generating plant technicians and field engineers represented by the Engineering Association ("EA"), an independent union. As the campaign gained strength, the IBEW filed for Article XXI protection. At a mediation session on the petition, the International Federation of Professional and Technical Employees ("IFPTE") stated that, although they were seeking to represent these employees, they were not engaged in organizing. Instead, they had negotiated a merger agreement with the EA, which they were about to submit for membership approval.

Article XXI deals with traditional forms of organizing, and not with union mergers or affiliations. Accordingly, Article XXI protection for the IBEW's campaign at TVA would not have precluded the IFPTE from proceeding with its merger plans with the EA. The IBEW therefore withdrew its petition. The membership of the EA subsequently voted to approve the merger and joined the IFPTE.

Article XXI ORP 08-2 - AT&T Yellowpages.com

As reported at the last meeting, the IBEW has been engaged in an on-going dispute with CWA that arose from an Article XXI petition the IBEW filed in April, 2008, seeking exclusive right to organize employees at AT&T's Yellowpages.com. The Article XXI mediator, Sarah Fox, issued a final decision finding that neither union was entitled to an exclusivity award. She also found it unlikely that either union would win an election if they continued to compete in the same locations, and therefore assigned each union exclusive organizing rights in different states, based on the locations in which each then represented AT&T employees performing similar tasks.
