

APPENDIX C

Planner for Assembling Important Records

This planner is designed to assist you in putting together a useful record of important information that you or your family might need in the event of an emergency. It is prudent to keep an updated record available for ready reference. You may want to copy a blank form and review and update your record annually.

Keep this record in a safe place, such as with your will and other important personal papers. Tell your family or loved ones where they can find this record if they should need it.

Date on which you last updated the information in this planner:
